【A】

The app Pokémon GO was released in early July 2016 and was downloaded by a lot of users all over the world. Over 7,500,000 American users download it. What makes it so popular? Let's take a look.

- ☆ It uses real-world places in the app. You need to go out to “explore” Pokéstops and Gyms. By playing the game, you can learn more about the places around you and enjoy sights you did not see before.
- ☆ It makes families of all ages get together. Grandparents walk with their grandchildren and enjoy the game together. It is also a great way to make children get some exercise. They need to go out to catch Pokémon. A walk through the park is a great way to have fun and enjoy nature together.
- ☆ People love to collect things. Once you get started, you do not want to stop until you catch them all.
- ☆ People can join one of three teams to fight with other teams. If your Pokémon wins, you can be the new gym leader. If your Pokémon doesn't win, no one knows. You do not need to be sad.
- ☆ It is free to play. You do not need to pay any money. You just keep visiting Pokéstops to collect things and you should have no problem keeping your bag full of Pokéballs and other things.
- ☆ You do not need to know the name of every Pokémon in the Pokédex to play the game. The story of the game is easy---the world around us is full of special animals and your job is to catch them, be their friends, and teach them to be stronger.

【B】

Do you like your name? A survey shows that one in five mothers feels they picked the wrong name for their baby. If they had the choice, they would pick another name for their child. Mothers often felt sorry about the names such as Charlotte, Amelia, Anne, Daniel, Jacob, James and Thomas they chose for their child.

In the survey, there were 245 mothers feeling sorry about the name they gave to their children. 12% of them always knew it was the wrong choice, 3% knew from the birthday of their children, 8% knew in a few days after their birthdays, 32% knew in the first six weeks and 23% began to “regret” their choice when their children started to go to school.

Why did they regret the name? Because the names were too commonly used (25%). There may be three kids having the same name in a class or twenty kids having the same name in a school. When you called James, these kids did not know which James you were calling. Some mothers said that “it just doesn't feel right”, and some said “it was not special enough”. Another 11% said their child had problems with spelling or pronouncing their name. Though some mothers thought about changing their children's names, only 6% of them really did.
