Are you always tired after school or work? Why not have afternoon tea on weekends? Imagine you are sitting with your friends in a nice tea shop. You are having a cup of English tea and a small snack. You are like enjoying your life.

Afternoon tea started in London in the 1840s. At that time, many people only ate two times in one day. A duchess named Anna Maria Russell was often hungry in the afternoons. She started to have tea and snacks. Sometimes, her friends were with her. That was the start of afternoon tea.

In the 1840s, people started afternoon tea with sandwiches. Then they had scones. After that, people ate many different small cakes. People usually had black tea together. Today, afternoon tea is still popular. It is also very different.

Now, many Taiwanese restaurants and tea shops have afternoon tea. You can choose traditional English or other kinds of afternoon tea, too. Some places even have buffets. You can have a large meal or many different small snacks with your tea.

Afternoon tea is popular in Taiwan, England, and many other countries. It is one of the little things that make life better.
