Do you know what a poem is? A poem is a kind of writing with different parts and these parts work together to create meanings.

An important part of a poem is the stanza. In a stanza, a group of lines are put together into a special pattern or rhythm. It can be long or short. Another part of a poem is the line. A few words make a line, and a few lines make a stanza. The third part of a poem is about the rhythm. Some words rhyme at the end of the lines. However, some of the poems don't rhyme at all. The last part is the meter, the arrangement of sounds in a poem and patterns of strong and weak beats.

These are what you should know when you start to learn about poems!

44. ( ) Which is an example of a stanza?

(A) Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
 And sorry I could not travel both
 And be one traveler, long I stood
 And looked down one as far as I could
 To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
 And having perhaps the better claim,
 Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
 Though as for that the passing there
 Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
 In leaves no step had trodden black.
 Oh, I kept the first for another day!
 Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
 I doubted if I should ever come back.

(B) Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
 And sorry I could not travel both
 And be one traveler, long I stood
 And looked down one as far as I could
 To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
 And having perhaps the better claim,
 Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
 Though as for that the passing there
 Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
 In leaves no step had trodden black.
 Oh, I kept the first for another day!
 Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
 I doubted if I should ever come back.

(C) Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
 And sorry I could not travel both
 And be one traveler, long I stood
 And looked down one as far as I could
 To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
 And having perhaps the better claim,
 Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
 Though as for that the passing there
 Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
